ROMANCE BRINGS REUNION OF SON AND AGED MOTHER

Rock Island Woman is Reunited With Boy Lost as Baby

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 9.—(AP)—George Archer, ex-farmer and grocery store proprietor at New Lenox, near here, is back at the counter today convinced that he lives in an era of miracles.

All the elements which add the story to the included in the dream which came true to Archer.

When he was scarcely more than two years old, his mother Mrs. Ethel Archer was sent to a sanitarium from her home in Rock Island, and George and another brother, Vernon, were sent to a training school at Glenwood near Chicago Heights, when the home was broken up.

On his release he went to work in New Lenox. In the meantime his parents were told he was dead and he, in turn had no means of tracing his family and was led to believe that both his father and mother had died.

Romance Developed. It might have gone on this way for several years, had not a romance developed. He was always to be considered a homeless waif in the neighborhood and he came to think it was unfair to the girl. Then he went into action.

Rock Island, he had been told, was his home town in his infancy. He went there Tuesday and after an all day hunt, was told of an Archer family. He found the home to be that of his aged mother who recognized him immediately despite the fact she had not seen him since he was a baby. His resemblance to his brothers caused the recognition.

His mother had returned home from the sanitarium within two years after George was sent away. She was led to believe he was dead and turned to her other children, four sons and a girl for consolation. His father, Stephan Archer, died a few years ago.

BETTER FEELING FOR FOREIGNERS PLEA OF BISHOP

Edwin Holt Hughes Addressed Methodists in Conference

Elgin, Ill., Oct. 9.—(AP)—Tolerance for the foreigner was the message Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes of the M. E. church delivered in an address before the 88th annual session of the Rock River conference last night.

The speaker declared there was "no greater enemy on the earth than the man or chain of newspapers who will deliberately try and stir up adverse feeling between America and Great Britain."

"We are going to have the Stars and Stripes and Union Jack flowing together in peace at the vanguard of the world," he said.

Action on the public policy committee's report, delayed yesterday, will be the principal order of business today. Another important addition to the report was made in asking the state of Illinois to re-examine the validity of the supreme court decision which excludes the Bible from public schools of this state.

"We believe the practice of putting the Bible in public schools and excluding it from public schools is fallacious and that Bible in the public schools will decrease the need for them in jails and penitentiaries," the report states.

Commend Goodbye. The committee also added a paragraph commending President Coolidge for his remarks in behalf of world peace at the recent American Legion convention in Omaha.

It was voted to raise $5,000 annually for three years to enable Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, to tide over a temporary financial crisis.

Bishop Luther B. Wilson, presiding, was requested to appoint a commission to study the proposed perpetual ministers' pension fund system, following a vote of approval of the plan by the conference.

In introductory remarks, preceding Bishop Hughes' address, Dr. John Thompson, pastor of the Chicago Temple, declared that "Chicago is getting better with every passing year." Dr. Thompson also praised Mayor Devoy and Police Chief Collins for their administrative work in behalf of law and order.

DIXON HIGH TO MENDOTA; HARD GAME EXPECTED

Many Students to Go With Team Tomorrow Afternoon

The Dixon high school football team will encounter a strong foe again tomorrow afternoon when they go to Mendota for the annual clash with the high school squad of that city. Mendota has an exceptionally strong team this season, from all reports, having won from Ottawa last Saturday in the opening of their schedule, by a score of 18 to 0.

Coaches Bowers and Cully have been putting the team through finishing practice this week, remedying rough spots that showed up in last Saturday's contest with Geneseo. None of the Dixon men received injuries that will necessitate their leaving the lineup tomorrow and taking into consideration Mendota's strength of former years, the local high school team will enter the game with a hope of making it the third straight win of the season. A large delegation of students are expected to make the trip.

LYONS RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF LEE FARMERS INSTITUTE

Sessions This Week of Unusual Interest and Benefit

Philip Lyons of Harmon was re-elected president of the Lee County Farmers' Institute at the concluding session of the three days meeting of the institute, held in Harmon, West Brooklyn and Franklin Grove this week. Justin Becker of LaMoine was elected vice president, and Farm Advisor C. E. Yale of Amoy was made Secretary-Treasurer. William Taylor of West Brooklyn, A. L. Reigle of Franklin Grove and Anson Rosecrans of Paw Paw were elected delegates to the state institute at Quincy, with F. H. Delhot of West Brooklyn, P. D. Lahman of Franklin Grove and William H. Glaser of Sublette as alternates.

Mrs. C. C. Ackert of Dixon and Miss Nell Cahill of Amoy were re-elected president and secretary, respectively, of the Household Science department.

Were Good Meetings

The sessions of the institute this week were exceptionally well attended and of unusual interest and benefit. Many branches of farm life were touched in the discussions and everyone who attended any of the meetings was well repaid. At the meeting in Harmon Tuesday Robert Bolman of Nelson explained in some detail, the work of the Boys' Pig Club. He showed he could learn from his mistakes and from the competition he met. He and his brother found the best and cheapest feed for producing breeding stock to be alfalfa and clover pasture. The use of too much feed, even of ground oats before they were grown out, he said, and their future usefulness suffered.

The only practical method, he said, with a large bunch of shoats is to divide the pasture of the goats much earlier in the season than farmers ordinarily do. Then the feeders can be pushed well still on pasture and the breeding stock can be allowed to develop more slowly.

Told of State Fair School

In West Brooklyn Wednesday Lester Kuehna of Sublette told of the work of the State Fair School for Boys, which he attended. He found the school much more interesting than he had expected. The boys were carefully looked after and they got much more out of the talks on farm subjects than they would have had they been allowed to run wild, without supervision. They were kept in top notch condition by regular morning exercises and received the best of care immediately from doctor and nurse in case of any slight indisposition. He felt that the cost of the trip was small, indeed, compared with the benefit he received.

BOMBS FIGURED IN LABOR WAR-FARE AT JOLIET

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 9.—(AP)—Bombs figured in a labor dispute between garage proprietors and union officials organizing an automobile mechanics' union here last night, when four sticks of dynamite were thrown into the Winston Motor Company building in the downtown section.

Because of the failure of the bomb throwers sense of direction the explosion failed to do more damage than breaking windows and other minor damage.

The noise of the explosion was heard throughout the city and caused some excitement among crowds leaving the theaters. Officials of the garage said they received a telephone call in the evening, asking about a car and what time the garage would be closed. They told the anonymous caller about 8:30 and the explosion occurred shortly after 9 o'clock.

The Winston Co. has refused to recognize the mechanics union.

Posts Forfeit To Climb Bank Monday Evening

HARRY H. GARDNER

Rain last evening kept so many people away from going to the business district to see Harry Gardner, the "Human Fly," climb the Dixon National Bank building, that on advice of the Dixon American Legion committee, under whose auspices he was to climb, he postponed the event. However, he climbed the fluted columns of the structure and the corner, too, to prove that he's genuine.

Today he posted $100 with the American Legion as a forfeit if he does not climb to the top of the building Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, rain or shine, and it is hoped that a great crowd will be out to help the Legion. Harry says he'll do a lot of stunts on his way up and down the sides of the building, that he'll stand on his head on the cornice and that he'll also hang from the roof by his toes.

"Sixty Days" Leech's Reply to Iowa Driver

Craig, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, carpenter, who was taken into the county court this morning on an information charging him with driving an automobile while in an intoxicated condition. The story was given little credence by Judge William L. Leech who listened attentively and replied, "sixty days."

MENDOTA BOYS NEAR INJURY IN MISHAP ON ROAD

Perry Lewis and Oliver Finkenbinder, Mendota high school students, narrowly escaped serious injury last night about 9 o'clock when the Ford sedan in which they were riding, crashed into the rear of a truck west of Franklin Grove on the Lincoln Highway.

Finkenbinder was driving the car and did not observe the truck ahead of him, which he claims did not display a tail light. The driving rain prevented him seeing the truck until he was about to crash into it and the Ford was considerably damaged, necessitating its being towed to a Franklin Grove garage.

The front end of the sedan was badly wrecked and the wind shield was shattered, but fortunately neither of the young men received injuries other than a general shaking up. The matter was reported to Sheriff Risley this morning and it is expected that a warrant will be issued for the driver of the truck. It was said at the sheriff's office this noon.

OHIO MAN CHOSEN COMMANDER OF A. L. AT OMAHA THIS A. M.

Election Made Unanimous on Motion of Defeated Illinoisan

BULLETIN.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 9.—(AP)—John R. McQuigg of East Cleveland, Ohio, was elected national commander of the American Legion on the first ballot at the Legionnaires' final session of their seventh annual convention here today.

The election was decided with the votes of 13 delegations still to be recorded. It was a landslide and upon motion of Howard Savage, Illinois, and Edward Spafford, New York, losing candidates, was made unanimous.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 9.—(AP)—Campaign managers for John McQuigg of East Cleveland, O., thrice defeated candidate, claimed early today they had enough votes pledged to elect him national commander of the American Legion, possibly on the first ballot, which was expected to come this afternoon.

They have taken cognizance of a series of late night and early morning caucuses of delegations and saw their chief reliance in the western, southern and Ohio votes.

The Illinois delegation met at 2 o'clock this morning and in an enthusiastic session attended by all the Illinois men attending the national convention voted to cast 54 votes for Howard Savage of Chicago, retiring state commander, on every ballot. Considerable more support for the Illinois Legionnaire also was claimed.

The New York delegation numbering 70 votes, was equally firm in its determination to support Edward Spafford of New York.

George L. Berry of Tennessee, head of the International pressmen's union and officer of the American Federation of Labor was the 4th Legionnaire of strength in the field with a number of "dark horses" and favorite sons looming in the offing.

FATHER OF TEN CHILDREN GONE WITH AFFINITY

Woman's Husband Also With Them Wife Says in Bill

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 9.—(AP)—Herschel N. Watkins, 38, of London Mills, father of 10 children, who paid a fine in court here for taking a two weeks' joy ride with Mrs. Beulah Abbadusky, wife of one of his tenants, is gone again with her, but this time Fred Abbadusky, the husband, is along. Mrs. Watkins says, Officers have been asked to hunt the couple.

In a separate maintenance bill filed this week, Mrs. Watkins says her husband sought to trade their 16 year old daughter, Maxine for Mrs. Abbadusky. Fred, the tenant, was willing to make the trade, but the girl objected. So the trio went off together.

The mother of the ten children, who is finding it quite a task to take care of the family, of whom Maxine is the oldest, and run the large farm besides, has obtained an injunction keeping Watkins from touching any of his $50,000 estate. She thinks he will return and ask her forgiveness when his money runs out.

Chicago Judge Rebukes for His Excessive Bonds

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 9.—(AP)—Municipal Judge John Lyle of Cook county was effectively rebuked by the supreme court this morning for imposing excessive bail. The court reduced amount imposed in the case of David Creeley, indicted twice for conspiracy and extortion from a total of $130,000 to $2,500.

Making the announcement of the court Chief Justice Dunn said bail was for no other purpose than to insure the appearance in court, and was not designed as punishment. He made reference to Judge Lyle's custom of excessive bail, which recently has ranged from $100,000 to $2,000,000 in some cases.

FORMER DIXON-ITE SENTENCED FOR MISHAP

Plea of Guilty and Settlement With Widow Brings Leniency

BULLETIN.

E. A. Shetter of DeKalb, formerly of this city, was today sentenced to six months in the county jail at Sycamore and to pay a fine of $1000 for the killing of William Jay of Moline when Shetter's auto struck him on the Lincoln Highway near Malta as Shetter was returning to DeKalb from a visit in Grand Detour.

The former Dixon man was alleged to have been intoxicated and because of that fact he was arrested and indicted for manslaughter. His first trial on that charge resulted in the disagreement of the jury, and he was again arraigned for trial in Sycamore last month.

However, in the meantime, he effected a settlement with the widow of his victim, and on his agreement to plead guilty to a lesser charge, he was arraigned on a count of assault with a deadly weapon to which he pleaded guilty, as agreed. Mrs. Jay wrote to Judge Fulton, asking leniency for Shetter, which was granted by the judge, as his decision shows.

MITCHELL DENIED PERMIT TO LEAVE WASHINGTON NOW

Not Allowed to Go to Baltimore to Deliver Address

BULLETIN.

Washington, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The war department decided today to refuse to grant Col. William Mitchell permission to go to Baltimore where he had been invited to make an address.

It was explained that Col. Mitchell was under investigation with a view to disciplinary proceedings of a serious nature and that he would be required to remain in Washington and subject to the orders of the Inspector General of the army until the investigation is completed.

The invitation to Col. Mitchell came from the American Legion organization in Baltimore.

SHENANDOAH PROBE

Washington, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Margaret Ross Lansdowne, widow of Commander Zachary Lansdowne, captain of the Shenandoah, reiterated today before the naval court of inquiry that the navy department had ordered the airship on the western flight for political purposes over the protest of her husband.

To support her statement she read from the official correspondence introduced into the record showing that Lansdowne wanted the flight postponed to the second week in September and also wanted a trial flight to test the Detroit flying mast.

"My husband was very much opposed to this flight," she said. "My husband also felt that the Shenandoah was a ship of war and should not be taken inland."

Pointing out that war craft were not taken to the Great Lakes from the coast, Mrs. Lansdowne said: "It has been proved it would be done in the case of the Shenandoah."

Neither the court nor any of the interested parties had any questions to ask Mrs. Lansdowne and she was excused after being on the stand only 15 minutes.

After the crash of the Shenandoah, Mrs. Lansdowne made a public statement that her husband had objected to taking his ship on the mid-continent flight during the thunderstorm season in the midwest. Because of this statement, the court asked if she desired to appear before it and she replied that she did.

Formal notification of the refusal of Col. Mitchell to testify before the court yesterday after he had appeared in obedience to army orders was to be made today to the war department after conferences between Secretary Wilbur and Rear Admiral Jones, president of the court.

On Lawyer's Advice

Representative Frank R. Reid of Illinois, counsel for Mitchell, in a formal statement last night, said the officer had acted throughout on his advice, that personally Mitchell was ready and willing to testify, even at the risk of jeopardizing his case in the impending court martial proceeding growing out of his charges against the war and navy departments in connection with the Shenandoah disaster.

MY BUDDY
Sure! I've got a Buddy of whom I can boast. A Buddy I'll praise to the skies. Of friends, I'll admit, that I've more than a host, but in her's where real Buddyhood lies.

You never can say all the things that you feel. It isn't the gift of a man. But things that you do say are honest, and real, and you're doing the best that you can.

It started way back—Oh, I just can't recall—and it grows as time travels along. She always is ready to give me her all, and to soothe me when something goes wrong.

I know where to turn when I'm downcast and blue. I know how to bring back my smile. I turn to this Buddy. She knows what to do—and I'm feeling all right after while.

A helper! A backer! A real guiding light. I always have found her this sort. I know her full name, but I guess it's all right, when I just call her Mother, for short.

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY.

Breakfast
Stewed prunes, cereal, thin cream, baked omelet with tomatoes, crisp whole toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon
Noodle soup, cottage cheese and carrot sandwiches, baked rice pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner
Cream of celery soup, broiled pork chops, candied sweet potatoes, creamed cauliflower, pear salad, lemon jelly cake, graham bread, milk, coffee.

Pork chops can be broiled over or under a fire or pan-broiled in a hot iron frying pan over the fire. Always cook pork until "well done" whether it be roasted or broiled.

Candied Sweet Potatoes.
Four medium-sized sweet potatoes, 1/2 cup sugar, one-third melted butter, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Wash sweet potatoes and cook in boiling water for 20 minutes. Drain and peel. Cut in lengthwise and arrange in a buttered baking dish.

Sprinkle sugar over each half and pour over melted butter and lemon juice. Bake in a slow oven for one hour. A dripping pan is convenient to use for candying the potatoes. Increase the heat for the last few minutes of cooking to color the syrup and potatoes.

AUTUMN GIVES HOSTESS A CHANCE TO SERVE "DIFFERENT" LUNCHEONS.
The hostess who must be her own cook will find the early weeks of auumn ideal for "paying back" her summer obligations. The weather is cool enough to warrant any hot dish she may want to serve and at the same time warm enough to make cold dishes acceptable while the cook herself need not suffer in the kitchen.

Mushrooms a La King.
One pound mushrooms, 4 tablespoons butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups cream, 2 egg yolks, 1/2 cup shredded pimento, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, onion juice, pepper.

Clean mushrooms by brushing with a soft brush or cloth. If muddy wash quickly in lukewarm water, one at a time that the gills may not become water soaked. Break or trim off stem close to cap and peel caps if the skin is thick and tough. Put stems and peelings into a sauce pan, cover with cold water and simmer over a low fire for thirty minutes. Strain through cheese cloth and add stock with cream to the sauce. Slice caps, melt butter, add sliced mushrooms and saute for four minutes. Sift over flour and stir carefully with a fork until butter absorbs flour. Slowly add cream and mushroom stock, stirring carefully. Add lemon juice, onion juice, salt and pepper. Stir well and add pimientos. Simmer over boiling water for ten minutes. Stir in the yolks slightly beaten and serve as soon as the sauce thickens. Serve in patty shells or hot bread crustades or on triangles of hot toast.

Sweet Potato Croquettes.
Two cups mashed baked sweet potato, 1/2 cup blanched and shredded almonds, 3 tablespoons butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 egg, 3 tablespoons cream.

Chop almonds and work to a smooth paste with cream. Combine with sweet potato. Add seasonings, butter melted, egg slightly beaten, and more cream if necessary to make moist enough to shape. Shape in small balls or cones and roll in fine dried bread crumbs. Let stand on ice until firm. Dip in egg slightly beaten with two tablespoons milk and roll again and fry in deep hot fat.

Cider Salad.
One and one-half cups sweet cider, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 2 tablespoons gelatin, 4 tablespoons cold water, one-third cup white grapes, 1/2 cup

English walnuts, one-third cup diced celery.

Cut grapes in halves and remove seeds and skin. Break nut meats coarsely and cut the celery in small dice. Soften gelatin in cold water for ten minutes. Heat cider to the boiling point, remove from fire and stir in softened gelatin. Let stand until cool and beginning to jelly.

Stir in grapes, nuts and celery and turn into small molds or one large mold. This recipe will serve ten persons.

Golden Parfait.
Yolks 4 eggs, 2 cups whipping cream, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 cup orange juice, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 6 tablespoons water.

Beat yolks of eggs until thick. Dissolve sugar and water and bring to the boiling point. Boil until a thick syrup is made. Pour slowly over egg yolks, beating constantly. Cook over hot water until mixture thickens. Stir constantly. Remove from fire and cool. When cold stir in orange juice and fold in cream whipped until stiff. Turn into mold and freeze. The grated rind of the orange is cooked with the sugar and water. The mixture should be packed in three parts of ice to one part of salt and may be frozen without stirring. Allow from three to four hours for freezing.

Thursday's Party Delightful Event

One of the most successful and enjoyable events of the autumn social season was the afternoon given by Mesdames Max Rosenthal, Samuel Bacharach and Miss Carrie Rosenthal in Downing's hall Thursday.

One hundred and fifty-two guests were entertained during the afternoon in the brand new hall, palms, garden flowers and hothouse blooms adding their beauty to the attractive scene, and to the enjoyment of all.

Bridge was one of the diversions for the guests, Mrs. Wilbur Hart winning the high favor, Mrs. Clinton Weiner second; and Mrs. Theodore Fuller, third. Mrs. David Marks and Mrs. Everett Dutcher were awarded consolation favors.

Some of the ladies sewed during the afternoon instead of playing bridge and made aprons and bonnets which they kept as mementoes of the happy occasion. Prizes were also given to the most adept or expert needlewomen, Mrs. G. P. Powell winning the favor for the prettiest apron and Mrs. Fred Tolson winning the favor for the most bewitching bonnet.

Catress Cook served delicious refreshments.

All the guests experienced an unusually happy afternoon due to the delightful hospitality of Mesdames Bacharach, and Rosenthal and Miss Rosenthal.

The guests included Mrs. Jed Shaw of Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., and Mrs. A. S. Hyde of Chicago, who are visiting Mrs. Eustace Shaw, Mrs. Henry Frank of St. Louis, guest of Mrs. S. H. Fleming; Mrs. H. Van Iwenen of Chicago; and Mrs. Robert Cowles of Chicago.

The entire evening proved one of unusual enjoyment to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Witzleb Married Thirty Years

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Witzleb were married thirty years yesterday and last evening a company of fifty friends surprised them at their home and spent the evening with them.

Five hundred was enjoyed, Mrs. Henry Bott winning the first prize and Mrs. Frank Wadinski winning the consolation prize for the ladies, while Henry Bott won the first prize for the gentlemen and R. L. Whiteman won the consolation prize.

The evening proved one of much enjoyment to everyone present. Before departing for their homes, the guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Witzleb a handsome silver carving set and salad fork, with their best wishes for the continued health and prosperity of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Witzleb were completely surprised by the events of the evening and thank their friends for their thoughtfulness.

Entertained for Dixon Bride-to-be

Miss Irene Miller entertained in a most enjoyable manner a company of friends Saturday evening honoring Miss Esther Stitzel, whose marriage to Carl Speidel of Brookfield will be celebrated next week.

The guests were entertained at a delightful three course dinner followed by an evening of bridge. Miss Stitzel's place at the table was marked by the presence of a tiny bride and bridegroom, Kewpie dolls. The decorations were in pink and white and were very pretty, the dinner throughout emphasizing the idea of the wedding.

At bridge after dinner Miss Ruth Worthington won the high favor.

Miss Stitzel was further honored by her friends in the presentation of a handsome vase in amber ware which matched some goblets presented Miss Stitzel recently at a party held in her honor.

The entire evening proved one of unusual enjoyment to all.

J. F. F. Club Was Happily Entertained

Thursday evening Miss Lola Glesner entertained the members of the J. F. F. Club.

After a short business meeting "200" was enjoyed.

The decorations were in keeping with the Halloween season.

After the serving of tempting refreshments fortunes were told.

At the close of the evening the members presented Miss Goldie Albright with a birthday gift, which was accepted with a few words of appreciation.

HAVE BEEN GUESTS AT SHEPHERD HOME
Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Shepherd have been entertaining this week Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lawrence of Indianapolis, Ind. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence left this morning for their home.

NEW ERA IN RADIO.

An able radio editor who has been active in bringing out information regarding new circuits and encouraging amateurs to make their own receiving sets concludes that the time for that is over. A new era, he believes, has arrived in the radio industry.

For many months there has been nothing substantially new discovered. There are still improvements that can be made to a home-made set, but there is nothing "revolutionary" going on or expected. The lure of the amateur game is waning, meanwhile the manufacturing side of the game has made great progress. Formerly any clever amateur, by buying parts and materials, could make a receiving set as good as the ready-made ones in the stores, or better, and save considerable money doing it. Now, says the radio editor, the situation is reversed.

Manufacturers have standardized their sets and improved them, and arrived at quantity production which cuts down costs, so that the amateur can usually buy a better set on the market, or any standard type, than he can make for himself and probably get it complete for less money than the unassembled parts will cost him.

There is no longer, therefore, any good reason for not buying the factory sets. Appreciation of this fact may save many an earnest young radio enthusiast a lot of time and some money, if that is of any interest to him.

Interest in the game for its own sake, of course, is a different matter. Construction work is educational, and therefore to be encouraged, if not carried to excess.

GEORGIA PROTECTS HER CHILDREN.

The child labor situation is far from hopeless. Notable steps have been taken by several states, since the federal amendment was rejected, to protect their own children. Georgia is a conspicuous example.

It has always been said, by outsiders at least, that the Georgia cotton manufacturers wouldn't let that state safeguard its children from "child slavery." Georgia has just answered that charge by enacting a law, to take effect next year, forbidding the employment of any child under 14 in any manufacturing industry, forbidding the employment of children from 14 to 16 at night or in hazardous occupations at any time, and requiring all children of employable age to show evidence that they can read and write English and are physically fit for the work.

And credit for this law is given to the Georgia cotton manufacturers.

Here is a procedure which goes for to make amends for the rejection of the child labor amendment. Its imitation in every state not already possessing such legislation would remove a blot from the name of our southland.

THE SERIOUS SOAP-BOX.

In the days of Tom L. Johnson, called "best mayor of the best-governed city in the United States," Cleveland not only encouraged soap-boxing generally, but went so far as to build a rostrum on its public square where anybody who had an idea, or thought he had, was welcome to talk on any subject under the sun as long as any one would listen to him.

A man who has a cigar store opposite this forum has been watching the speakers gesticulate for twenty-one years. He has seen the orators come to go, listeners bored and drifting in and out, or listeners concentrated, cheering; but never has he observed any group making any perceptible impression on the life flowing placidly and normally around them. Up to the present time he has never been sufficiently interested to cross the street and listen to their utterances. He thinks he will take half a day off some time and find out whether any of them have anything to say.

This would seem to be at least a slight indication of the safety or danger of free speech.

The house of lords may be good for something after all. A young British peer has invented a way to keep the feet cool while dancing. A hollow shoe tree is filled with ice worn by hot-footed youth. This may be useful in dear old Lunnon, but over here we aren't so keen on finding that the desired dancing partner has cold feet.

American archaeologists in Asia say they have discovered the fossil remains of a horse with claws instead of hoofs. Let them keep on, and they'll find the ancestor of the winged horse of Pegasus, vouched for by every poet in good standing.

Sometimes, nowadays, it's just a little hard to tell the difference between real estate and unreal estate. Especially if you are studying a realtor's plat of a distant land-boom town.

Always, just as the American public gets a new grip on its purse and determines to be thrifty for a little while, down go automobile prices again.

Henry A. Wallace, editor of Wallace's Farmer, predicts a food shortage in 1960. Let us get rid of this problem of a food surplus before we begin worrying about that.

The old world's leading crop this year is American tourists.

TOM SIMS SAYS

If you think business is worse, it really may be, but only because everyone else thinks the same.

The trouble with having nothing you must do is you usually go and do something you must not do.

Secrets are hardest to keep when no one knows you have them.

A pessimist is a man who would want things different even if things were different.

Being down in the mouth is a fine way to get yourself all up in the air.

A fool and his job are soon parted.

Men never know what to order in restaurants, yet they kick about the food served them at home.

No man thinks a woman is good enough for him unless she is too good.

Men dress almost as foolish as men would dress if men had as much nerve as women.

Really, a woman has an awful time. She is even liable to fall in love with a man who has a mustache.

There is no excuse for a coal dealer having a frown on his face. (Copyright 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

General Alvaro Obregon has been visiting California on business.

He raises beans and wants better shipping facilities. And that simple fact is about the most significant indication of Mexico's development in constitutional freedom and economic progress.

For when General Obregon laid down the presidency because his term had expired, and turned it over to a successor whose only title was that he had been elected by the people, that was something that had never happened before in Mexico.

If it can keep on happening, Mexico is politically free.

And if Mexico's public men, on retiring from office, will set the example of raising beans, or doing anything else useful, Mexico will be prosperous.

Three things that Mexico needed, it has now measurably attained—political stability, schools and opportunity for the people, and attention to business.

One more thing it needs. That is foreign capital. It can get that only on capitalistic terms.

There are many arguments in favor of Socialism, and many earnest people believe in them.

But one thing Socialism can not do. That is to serve as a bankable security for capitalistic loans or investments in a capitalistic world.

This is not mere theory. It translates itself into very practical facts.

Mexico announces an impregnable political principle. Those who invest in Mexico must do so under Mexican law, and have exactly the rights of Mexican investors.

This is "fair" enough. But fairness is not enough.

The capitalist world has certain standards of the inviolability of property. To it, land is property, and ownership of it is ownership.

If Mexico chooses to make land ownership a revocable privilege, subject to recall by political authority, it is "fair" to apply the same principle to native and foreign investors alike.

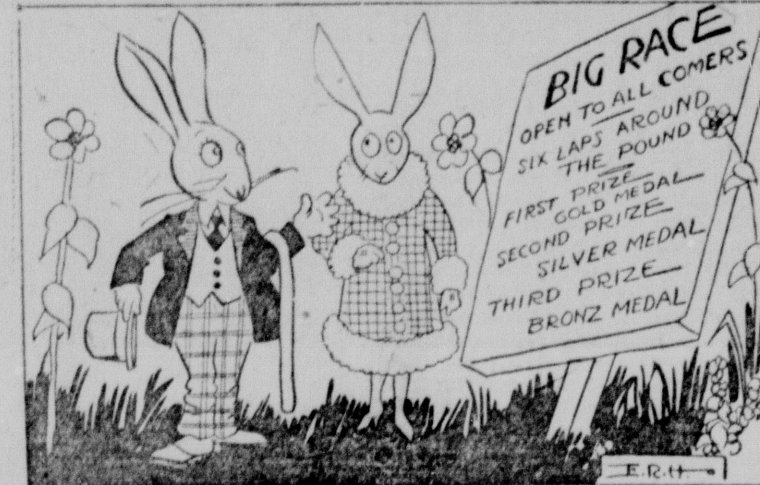

But the result will be that foreign investors will stay at home, where they do not have to take that risk, or else will demand profits large enough to cover the risk.

The capital development of Mexico depends absolutely on the confidence of the capitalists of the world that they will receive, not merely "fair,"

ADVENTURES OF THE TWIN

by Olive Roberts Barton

THE AUTOMOBILE RACE

"Ho, ho, ho!" laughed Mister Bunny. "It's as good as over, Blossom, the race is."

There was going to be a race.

The sign was tacked up on a post outside of the "Twin Garage." And everybody who came along for gas, reading it. It said:

BIG RACE

Open to All Corners

Six Laps Around the Pond

First Prize Gold Medal

Second Prize Silver Medal

Third Prize Bronze Medal

It wasn't half an hour until the news had spread to every corner of the Woods and Meadows and Old Orchard and up and down the Creek.

"Ho, ho, ho!" laughed Mister Bunny. "It's as good as over, Blossom, the race is! I don't think there is a car in the country that can beat mine."

"Well, I declare!" exclaimed Daddy Woodchuck, winking at Nick. "That's the easiest thing I do—is to win automobile races."

And Prickles Porcupine just took a look and snorted. "Who thinks he can beat me, I'd like to know!" he snapped. "I've got a car with a name to it, and anybody who can beat a 'Thunder-Six' will have to get up early in the morning."

I don't know just what he meant by getting up early, or why it should have anything to do with racing. Unless he meant that they would have to get an early start.

But racers have to start even, so I really think he was only talking.

Even Mr. Ringtail Coon looked thoughtful when he saw the sign.

"I've a good notion to have my yellow racer repaired," he said to himself. "It certainly is a great temptation. I'm the only person of my entire acquaintance who has a but capitalistic treatment.

Fortunately, the new regime in Mexico bids fair to meet even this condition. It is in a difficult dilemma.

The distribution of the large estates of Mexico among the people is a political and economic necessity. We would be doing the same thing in this country, too, if we had the same situation.

To do this involves some modification of the orthodox conception of the inviolability of property in land. And to do this to Mexican property necessarily means doing it also to foreign-owned property. Which is precisely what foreign investors will not risk.

"I think it is, Leslie," answered John, still ignoring Syd and Sally. "As usual I've been all kinds of a fool. You see I was much disappointed when Condon came back without Sally and my first impulse was to go over to her house and insist that you both go out to dinner with me. I started to get my hat when I heard Condon talking to someone in the outer office. I opened my door and found that he was talking in a very ugly manner to little Margarita Stimpson."

And without so much as blinking an eyelash, he picked up the pencil and wrote down his name.

Then he scampered off to the automobile repair shop where a dozen old wrecks of cars lay rusting out in the yard.

The TANGLE

I was trembling, Little Marquise. I felt something must be done to counteract the emotionalism of the moment, so, as I slowly drew my hands away from my husband I smiled and said, "Is it as bad as all that, dear?"

"I think it is, Leslie," answered John, still ignoring Syd and Sally. "As usual I've been all kinds of a fool. You see I was much disappointed when Condon came back without Sally and my first impulse was to go over to her house and insist that you both go out to dinner with me. I started to get my hat when I heard Condon talking to someone in the outer office. I opened my door and found that he was talking in a very ugly manner to little Margarita Stimpson."

"No, I have eaten nothing since breakfast," she told me. "I have been so nervous knowing Mrs. Atherton was to come back."

"Why should Mrs. Atherton make you nervous child?" I questioned. "She is one of the nicest women I know."

Again I heard Sally's soft voice. "Thank you, that tribute is something I do not deserve."

"Go and wash the tears out of your eyes, little one," I told her," continued Jack, "and we will take a spin."

"I didn't have a moment to think

"Why are you hanging around here so late?" he asked.

"I waited a moment to see what she was going to answer, but presently the girl burst out crying at his threat to discharge her and I thought it was time to interfere."

"I went out and told him to get out. He left without saying a word and I turned to the girl."

"She had raised her little, appealing, tear-stained face up to mine and was asking, trembling, 'Oh, Mr. Prescott, will you not let Mr. Condon discharge me, will you?'"

"Certainly not," I promised decidedly. "He has nothing to do with the young women in my office."

Sally Atherton groaned, but I do not think Jack heard her. He was busy explaining and making his peace with me.

"I thought the girl would go," Jack continued, "when I gave her my assurance that she would hold her job, but she continued to weep. Finally I thought that a ride might quiet her and I asked her if she had had her dinner."

"No, I have eaten nothing since breakfast," she told me. "I have been so nervous knowing Mrs. Atherton was to come back."

"Why should Mrs. Atherton make you nervous child?" I questioned. "She is one of the nicest women I know."

Again I heard Sally's soft voice. "Thank you, that tribute is something I do not deserve."

"Go and wash the tears out of your eyes, little one," I told her," continued Jack, "and we will take a spin."

"I didn't have a moment to think of the engagement before the girl was back and we were driving along in my roadster. I had exchanged the town car for it about an hour before, for I had suddenly remembered that I had promised the town car to Mother."

"Arriving at Draco's I was inexpressibly bored by Miss Stimpson, who immediately forgot all her troubles and chattered and prinked, and finally asked me if I could possibly keep from dancing when I heard that heavenly jazz."

WORLD SERIES IS TRANSFERRED NOW
TO SENATORS' HOME

Weather, Early This Morn
Threatened to Prevent Playing Today

Washington, Oct. 9.—(AP)—World series strife today comes back to the national capital, home of Bucky Harris and his champion Senators. Here, on the scene of their spectacular triumph last fall over the New York Giants in the capital's first world series, the Senators were to renew their battle for the 1925 crown with the Pittsburgh Pirates, after breaking even in the first two games of the conflict in the haze of the Pennsylvania city, if the weather permits.

A chill drizzling rain that began falling at about 8 o'clock this morning was threatening to cause postponement today of the third battle. Fighting hard for every advantage they have gained in an ebbing and flowing battle of pitching genius, defensive skill and batting punch—these two great arrays have every incentive before them in today's game, which is slated to see Alex Ferguson, right handed veteran, take the mound for Washington against Ray Kremer.

Crisis For Pirates
For the Senators it is a homecoming before the notables and the everyday fans who have watched and cheered their sensational climb to baseball glory. For Pittsburgh it is a crisis in their fight to come back to the heights they have now scaled in 19 years.

Chief among those stars the Senators followers will welcome back today is Walter Johnson, whose great right arm subdued the Pirates in the first game, gaining a triumph that keeps the champions on even terms with their rivals, in spite of Vic Aldridge's victory over Stanley Coveleskie yesterday in the second game, a set back that contained added disaster in the injury to Ossie Bluege, third baseman, who went out of the game after being hit on the back of the head by a pitched ball.

Senators Handicapped
Bluege came back with the team, but doubt remained as to whether he would be in condition to go back in the lineup again this afternoon. With his brilliant fielding and batting missing, the Senators will carry on under handicaps, especially since another usually reliable infielder cog, Roger Peckinpaugh, has experienced an unexpected slump and rolled up a total of three misplays in two games. Buddy Myer, a recruit from New Orleans, filled Bluege's post for the last part of yesterday's game and handled himself well. He probably will continue there today if Bluege remains out, but his presence will add an uncertain quantity because of his inexperience.

Two home runs off Coveleskie and some superb pinch pitching by Aldridge spelled the downfall of the Senators in as close a world's series battle as has ever been waged.

Aldridge Good in Pinches
Glenn Wright tied the score for Pittsburgh with a homer after Joe Judge had put the champions in the lead with a circuit blow and Kiki Cuyler came through with a thrust that clinched the game—a drive that hopped into the right field bleachers and scored ahead of him Eddie Moore, who was on base through an error by Peck.

Twice Aldridge, for his part, choked off Washington after the bases had been filled with none out. In the fifth he retired the heavy artillery—Rice, S. Harris and Goslin—without a run being scored. In the ninth, facing the same situation, he escaped with only one tally going across that one a sacrifice fly by Bob Veach, pinch hitter.

Thus Washington had its big opportunities to break through, but failed where the club usually has measured up to its emergencies. Rice, in a similar situation, the day before, for instance, had driven in the deciding runs, but yesterday he was the last man out in the ninth inning rally with two runners on base.

Stettler, Alberta—Bob Fox of Stettler last night won the Canadian light heavyweight championship from Jack Reddick when Reddick was disqualified at the end of the 6th round for hitting low.

CHICAGO TEAM IS INTACT FOR GAME
WITH OHIO STATE

Contest is Most Important in Western Field
Tomorrow P. M.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The first football invasions of the Western Conference season are under way today with Ohio State en route to Chicago and Indiana trekking into the lap of the Wolverine.

The Buckeye incursion is the most noteworthy, since it brings the threat of Coach Wilce's proteges to Jar, if possible, the aspirations of Coach Stagg's Maroons for another Big Ten title. And though Michigan is a favorite over the Hoosiers, a defeat for either means being put out of the running for the crown, temporarily at least.

Bad weather and darkness are not halting the intensive windup of the Maroon's rehearsals. With an uninjured squad they are geared in high. Likewise the Wilcemen, with Hunt out permanently, are ready to turn loose the tricks they have learned since the season opened.

Yost to Use Reserves
Coach Yost is prepared to run in an army of reserves against Indiana, whose practice has stressed passing and trick plays. Coach Ingram plans to replace W. Fisher at left tackle with Clifford and Sibley at right end with Nessell.

Elsewhere in the conference and at Notre Dame workouts taper off today. Coach Rockne is working entirely for the Army game next week and expects to keep many of his headliners on the bench in the Beloit game tomorrow. Meanwhile, at Minnesota the Notre Dame games in a fortnight means more than Grinnell or Wabash, the next opponents.

Northwestern's preparation for Carlton is ended. The game will be the annual Dad's Day observance.

Captain Red Grange and his mates of the Illini are in fine form for Butler and have an eye on the Iowa game a week hence. Light practice is Wisconsin's final workout for Franklin, and Iowa expects to use about the same lineup against St. Louis that it arrayed last week against Arkansas.

STRONG BUTLER
TEAM TO DRIVE
AGAINST ILLINI

Hope to Grab Game
From Zuppke and is Charges

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 9.—A strong veteran Butler team will invade the Illinois stadium Saturday, bent on beating the Illini.

Pet Page, veteran Butler coach, hopes to triumph over coach Bob Zuppke of the Illini, for the first time since 1922 when Illinois fell by a 10 to 7 score. He has a strong squad which had shown up well in early season games.

Zuppke is putting in some hard licks since the Nebraska setback. He is not discouraged, since the green linemen gained a world of experience from the game and showed potential strength, the very result he wished to obtain from a battle with so powerful a foe in the season's first game. The result will affect Illinois conference standing.

The thing most lacking against the Huskers—"Red" Grange's interference—is receiving a lot of Zuppke's attention. "Red" had but little help from his mates. "Zup" is working with Leonard and Daugherty to perfect their blocking in helping Grange get away against Butler.

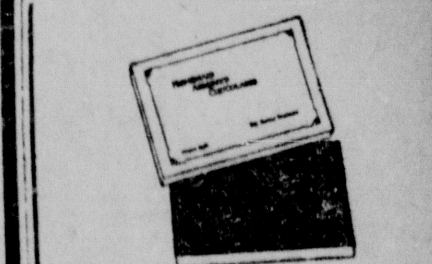

The Illini expect a good game with Butler and are preparing for such a one. Many fans throughout the state and nearby Indiana are coming. It will be their last chance to see Grange in action here until the homecoming game with Michigan, Oct. 24.

Since seats for that game are all gone, many fans are preparing to come to see the Butler contest. There are no reserved seats and there will be plenty of room.

Baltimore—The Kentucky Colonels from Louisville, titlists of the American Association, and the Baltimore Orioles, seven times champions of the International League, rested today in their quest of the junior world's baseball crown.

Robert Jackson visited relatives in Maiden Monday afternoon.

Dr. Cummings' Health Column

BY DR. HUGH S. CUMMING,
Surgeon General, United States Public Health Service.

Many prepared cereals are nutritious and convenient foods. They not only reach the consumer's table in a clean state, but they also usually have the additional advantage of thorough cooking. Prepared cereals are labor savers and time savers, but they are not money savers. In the end you pay for the additional convenience, sometimes several hundred per cent. You should realize also that some of the health preparations which are over concentrated and are designed to supply high food values should be used sparingly.

A great many people like the taste of malt. Some malt preparations represented to be pre-digested foods are not really pre-digested. A sufficient amount of malt present under favorable conditions will, of course, change starch into more soluble forms.

If you have a good digestive apparatus, you do not need to have your food pre-digested. If you do not have a good digestive apparatus you had better consult a reputable physician. Your digestive system has a malt factory of its own. For at least half an hour after you eat, the saliva produced by the salivary glands of your body is busy changing starch into maltose and dextrose.

Very few people overcook cereals. Overcooking of cereals is harmless.

Undercooking of cereals is undesirable. In the preparation of home cooked cereals for the table thorough cooking is essential.

Equally important is chewing. You should eat your cereals slowly and chew them thoroughly.

It may be well to mix something which requires chewing with your cereals in order that you may be brought to chew your breakfast food properly.

You should know also that cereals are like meats in one respect, they are acid forming substances.

Better Macaroni Thoroughly. Macaroni is another bread-stuff which is popular favor. Macaroni to be digestible should be baked thoroughly until it loses its toughness.

Batter cakes made of cornmeal, wheat flour, buckwheat, hominy, or oatmeal when they are light and well cooked are easily digested and quite as nourishing as bread.

The danger is batter cakes lies in overeating. They do not always agree with young children.

Cake, when it does not contain an excessive amount of sugar, spices, citron, or chocolate, is a good food. The fuel value of cake may be even greater than the principal dish which you have served on your table.

Herein lies the danger of cake eating. Cake is usually eaten after a full meal, after the stomach is already loaded.

A doughnut is extremely rich in calories. Many people have a habit of eating doughnuts between meals, or eat several at a meal. If you are doing this you are taking on much rich food of high caloric value and undoubtedly throwing your ration out of balance.

Pie, like cake, has a high fuel value and contains large quantities of sugar and fats. A piece of pie is about equal in fuel value to two ordinary servings of roast beef.

Thoroughly baked pies with browned crusts, flaky and digestible, are as delicious as they are rare. If you have such pies on your table treat them with respect, be temperate in the quantity you use.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DIRECTORS HONOR VICTOR F. LAWSON

Resolutions of Tribute are Adopted at Meeting
Held Wednesday

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—A tribute to Victor Fremont Lawson was adopted unanimously by the board of directors of The Associated Press as the first action of the first meeting held since his death. Besides eulogizing him as a true American, a Christian gentleman, a courageous newspaperman and a tower of wisdom and strength, the directors ordered Mr. Lawson's portrait reproduced in a steel engraving and a copy sent to every member of the Associated Press which he founded. Sympathy was extended to members of Mr. Lawson's family and co-workers in the Chicago Daily News.

The resolution follows:
VICTOR FREMONT LAWSON
Born at Chicago, Ill., Sept. 9, 1850.
Died at Chicago, Ill., Aug. 18, 1925.
Proprietor of the Chicago Daily News.
Founder of The Associated Press.
Was True American.
The members of the board of directors of the Associated Press lament the death of Victor Lawson, a man of brilliant and conscientious mind, with the highest conception of his obligations as a citizen; fair, just and honorable in all his transactions, a pleasing personality, a loyal friend, a charming companion. He was a true American in every fibre; an outstanding Christian gentleman, who made divine wisdom his guide, a courageous, generous and enterprising newspaperman, practicing the highest ideals and ethics of journalism; a tower of wisdom and strength in every activity with which he was associated.

Mr. Lawson's life, his work, his achievements, the devotion of his most intimate friends and the impression he made upon all who had the privilege of his acquaintance will not only be a cherished memory of the profession to which he gave his life, but will also be an example and inspiration to all who are right-minded and aspire to useful life and the respect and admiration of mankind.

A. P.'s First President
Victor F. Lawson was the first president of a national association of newspapers to gather and distribute news without profit and with the sole purpose of fairly, promptly and honestly informing the public of the happenings and occurrences of the day. He led the revolt against privately owned and controlled news agencies and gave to the movement the stamp of his high character and unselfish public service and the financial standing of his large resources—and thus rallied to his support leading newspapers of America and created the greatest news gathering organization in the world. The Associated Press, in which 1,200 newspapers representing diverse opinions and divergent interests, cooperate in demonstrating that brethren can dwell in unity for a great and useful purpose.

The Associated Press typifies the character, lofty aims and noble purposes of the life of Victor Fremont Lawson; and so long as it maintains its high principles and serves the public honestly, the spirit of Victor Fremont Lawson will continue to live with the beneficent influences it exercised during his life time.

Honor Him Further
Therefore, be it resolved, that the board of directors and the executive staff of The Associated Press extend deepest sympathy and condolence to the members of the family of Victor Lawson and particularly to his associates and co-workers in that great and model newspaper—the idealized child of his brain—the Chicago Daily News, we have with them a deep and keen sense of irreparable personal loss in comradeship and in wise and constructive counsel.

Resolved, that his portrait be reproduced in a steel engraving suitable for framing, inscribed as Founder and President of The Associated Press and a copy thereof be sent to every member of the association.

Resolved, that the first hour at the next meeting of the members of The Associated Press be devoted to tribute to Mr. Lawson's memory.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of Mr. Lawson, to the Chicago Daily News and be sent to all members."

Community Spirit in Ogle County is Fine

Splendid community spirit was demonstrated in the community meetings held at Davis Junction in Ogle County Wednesday evening and Thursday afternoon and evening last week. This is the second annual event of this character in charge of local leaders cooperating with the Farm Bureau. It is designed as a community enterprise but it is expected that it will cooperate with the County Farmers' Institute as a part of that work, according to plans that were made at the meetings last week.

Excellent speakers from outside of the County were called upon to take part in the program including A. V. Livingston, President of the Rockford Chamber of Commerce, A. L. Lang of the Soils Department of the University of Illinois, Rev. Edgar W. Smith of Argyle, Mrs. W. W. Ramsey of Chicago, Mr. Crull and the Argyle Glee Club from Argyle.

In connection with the community meetings was an exhibit of farm products household products and school displays which was as good an exhibit as would be exhibited at any County Farmers' Institute. The products exhibited were sold at auction at the close of the last session and the proceeds used in paying the expenses of the program.

Merchants in the community cooperated in taking advertising in the printed programs and boosted for the good of the community work.

Washes a tub of clothes in 3 to 7 minutes—or 50 lbs. an hour—actually twice as much as other good washers. It is easier on filmy fabrics than hand-rubbing; more thorough on hefty materials than scrub-board methods—and infinitely better from a clothes-wear standpoint. And—note this especially—no hand-rubbing is necessary! This is all due to the miraculous Gyrofoam principle—the most advanced departure from other washing methods.

"I expect you have many testimonials of achievements for Red Crown gas, but I don't think you have reports of many cars making such a trip as we did, down through the Ozark Mountains — muddy roads — dry roads — paved roads — rocky roads — up and down roads and corkscrew roads — drives in torrential rains and on stinging cold nights and never in low gear but once when we passed a man stalled on a steep mountain grade in a car that was evidently not using Red Crown, as our engine always delivered the full power whenever called upon."

Power farmers raise more corn

In Ohio's famous 100 bushel per acre corn club, more than half the members raised their corn by tractor power. These power farmers produced, on the average, three acres of corn to the non-tractor farmer's one.

Raising corn the HART-PARR way will increase your acreage, your yield and your profits. The HART-PARR is especially adapted to corn harvesting, as its surplus power enables it to haul a wagon as well as a harvester, and to operate the harvester through its power take-off.

The economical kerosene-burning HART-PARR will prove a paying investment from the start. It does plowing, discing and seeding much faster than horses. And, in addition to doing husking, shredding and silo filling, it harvests and threshes small grain. In winter you can use it for shelling corn, grinding feed and sawing wood.

This durable, long-lived tractor is made in three sizes, for the small, medium and large farm. Drop in and let us demonstrate the improved models, with enclosed drive, disc clutch, detachable power take-off and greatly increased power for belt and field work. We are glad to back HART-PARRS with our reputation, for no better tractors are made.

Call or Write For This FREE Book

This big free book will convince you of the economy of power farming, and also show you how to get the most for your money when you come to buy a tractor. Contains scores of interesting illustrations and hundreds of helpful facts for the farmer who would like to grow bigger, sturdier and more profitable crops. Just call or write for a copy—it's free!

RUBBING SHOULDERS WITH BROADWAY'S CROWD

New York—See-sawing up and down Broadway I met Malerovsky, the Russian "poet of the masses" who sprang into fame after the revolution and a huge, lumbering man he is looking more like a stevedore than a poet. Yet, his said, he has sold 2,000,000 copies of his poems in Russia and he told me of one written since his arrival in America which, translated, would begin like this: "If you would learn to hate come to New York." A thought, which at times, I have had.

...saw George Arliss, one of the few to carry on the old stage tradition, and he just back from London whither he goeth each summer.

...saw Charles Evans Hughes, who long carried the secretary of state's portfolio, and he was adjusting a matter of fare with a lowly taxi driver, even as you and I.

...saw many notables at an important first night production and not the least of these was Fannie Hurst who seemed to have squandered much of the fortune late won in a magazine photoplay contest upon a red gown she was wearing.

...saw Llewellyn Jones, who conducteth a most worthy column of books in Chicago and he telleth me he hath delivered himself of a book of essays to a publishing house.

...saw Rosamond Pinchot, who with Lady Diana Manners played the nun in "The Miracle" lovely figure by increasing the daily and 'tis said that she keepeth her cozen to 34.

...met Lars Hanson, who is to Sweden what David Wark Griffith, Cecil De Mille and others are to America, and he volunteereth as how America will see such cinemas out of Sweden as will cause it to catch its breath.

...saw Maria Kurenko, who cometh from Siberia, and they do say her name will soon sing across these states as "the new Fatti" and rare pleasant is she to look upon.

...saw Fortune Gallo, the Italian who proved that grand opera can be more profitable in the sticks than upon Broadway, and one more he prepareth to take his artists throughout this realm.

...saw Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, who useth no mean part of her fortune in helping worthy young artists and art causes and herself a sculptor of some note, and she was hurrying to a private viewing which, even as the turning of the leaves, would indicate that winter is not far off and the art exhibits soon shall hop about, even as the robin in spring.

I was down on Chrystie street the other night to a festa. It extended for blocks, the streets arched overhead with festoons of lights and the flags of Italy and America. At one end of the street was an open air shrine before which burned massive candles and to which the pious had pinned dollar bills as thick as the leaves on a maple tree. Across the way on a crimson draped platform a good hand was playing airs from Verdi and Puccini. At the other end of the street and part of the same festa was another platform supporting a throbbing, dark-skinned jazz band, and on the smooth asphalt young couples were stepping and swaying in competition for a Charleston prize. And it must be set down that the strains of "Red Hot Mamma"

NEW YORK—The comedy of life in New York changes with the seasons.

Somewhat we can all laugh at the man who chases his hat down the traffic-jammed thoroughfare on a warm July day. We watch the outcome of his chase with high amusement, knowing full well that his chances of saving the straw beanie are one in a thousand. And, sure

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

enough, "Cough" and another joins the thousands of broken straws that fill the streets.

And we howl with glee as the wind blows inside out the thousands of cheap umbrellas picked up from corner vendors during an unexpected rain, and the streets grow cluttered with parasol skeletons.

We can smile even at the fat man who is a veritable Niagara of perspiration in the subway.

But there is nothing funny about a pinched face behind an all too meager wrap.

This is the season when the comedy of New York changes even as the leaves.

The loungers in the parks and up on the library steps are thinning out. And those that gather now sit there, not for mere recreation, but because there is no place else to go. The crowds that group about the employment agencies wear more anxious faces.

Down on the East Side, where the pushcart peddlers defy wind and storm, like veteran mariners, they now begin to break packing boxes in to kindling and build bonfires in the center of the street, gathering around to stamp feet and clap hands and adjust mufflers.

On the side streets appear children with little carts, picking up shavings and bits of wood.

There is little to smile at and less to laugh at—for the comedy of life in New York changes with the seasons.

Also this is the season of leases. The country, the seashore, the mountains and Europe have returned most of New York's strollers and stragglers and landlords run about demanding that the dotted line be signed.

For few rentals of worthwhile places in New York are negotiated without the signing of one's liberty away for a year's period. The wise ones have subletter for the summer or come into town early. And perhaps one of the most wistful sights to be seen at this season is that of the little Sunday morning groups, up early but not beating the crowd, trading tiredly from district to district, now following a want ad section, now trailing a real estate list in the hunt for a liveable place among the remnants.

Ghetto conversations recorded in a New York newspaper by Milt Gross, cartoonist and humorist, have started a vogue for inventing dialect tales, one of the instances of which reached my ears:

"Vot are you reedink?"
"Keats."
"Umm—vot a dahlink goll, reedink all about de lectly tshildren."

Did You Ever Stop to Think—

BY E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla. Board of Commerce

L. W. Baldwin, President of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company, says: THAT the railroads have nothing to sell except service and their success, progress and prosperity depend upon their ability to provide adequate, dependable and satisfactory service and sell that service.

THAT in spite of the fact that the population and volume of business in this country has been increasing, the character of railroad service provided has been constantly improving. Passenger earnings have been declining. There is a reason for this, of course. The answer is to be found in the increased use of hard roads. THAT sooner or later, railroads must adjust their service because it will not be possible to continue indefinitely what is right and what is best for all concerned. MOST OF THE SO-CALLED PROBLEMS IN WHICH THE PUBLIC AND THE RAILROADS ARE MUTUALLY INTERESTED WOULD BE FOUND NOT TO EXIST AT ALL OR EASY OF SOLUTION, IF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE PUBLIC WILL SIT DOWN WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF THE RAILROAD IN HONEST ENDEAVOR TO FIND OUT WHAT SHOULD BE DONE AND DO IT.

THAT without good railroad service no community can hope to grow and prosper as it should. Therefore, anything which affects a community's railroad affects every citizen and every industry in the community. THAT railroad men are just like other citizens and are anxious to do
